ITEM #D1

Topic: Securities Lending

Attendees: Sheila Asher, Vice President - Custody and Fund Services, JPMorgan
Eileen Fortis, Vice President – Securities Lending, JPMorgan (by phone)
Leandro Festino, Managing Principal - Meketa Investment Group

Discussion: After a review of the securities lending program at the May 10, 2018 meeting, the Board requested the topic be placed on a future agenda item for further discussion and to address a few remaining questions. Staff and representatives from Meketa and JPMorgan will facilitate discussion and provide a further review of certain aspects of the securities lending program per the Board’s request.
Securities Lending

July 12, 2018
Securities Lending Basic Overview

- Custodian bank serves as a lending agent to facilitate the transactions
- Loaned security and collateral values are marked to market and adjusted daily
If Borrower Defaults:
• JPMorgan liquidates collateral to repurchase securities

If Collateral Insufficient:
• Indemnification is triggered to cover the difference between the value of the cash collateral and the repurchase price of the replacement securities

If JPMorgan Insolvent:
• DPFP becomes an unsecured creditor for the amount of the indemnification (i.e., value of securities not repurchased)

• The Federal Reserve Board’s risk-based capital guidelines treat indemnifications issued in connection with agency securities lending activities as off-balance sheet guarantees that are subject to capital charges.
Indemnification

J.P. Morgan’s capital strength is significantly larger, by multiples, than many of our competitors which reinforces our ability to fully honour the indemnification pledges made to our securities lending clients.

Lender protections

J.P. Morgan will:

- Cover the overnight market risk for loans of securities in the event of a borrower default.
- Replace loaned securities, even if there has been an adverse market shift that results in insufficient collateral being available to cover the cost of the replacement securities in the event of a borrower default.
- Cover the diminution in the value of securities collateral for all loans made in our bonds borrowed program.
- Be responsible for making the lender whole if a borrower fails to remit entitlements for loaned securities.
- Credit the lender with any distributions on loaned securities on the day such distributions are typically made, regardless of whether the borrower remits such distributions.

All indemnities are not created equal – indemnification can differ among securities lending providers

Overview

• What Is a Fiduciary?
• Why and When Are You a Fiduciary?
• What Are Your Key Fiduciary Duties?
• What Standards of Conduct Apply?
• What Are Your “At-Risk” Situations?
• What Is Your Liability?
What Is a Fiduciary?

• “A fiduciary is a person holding the character of a trustee...in respect to the trust and confidence involved in it and the scrupulous good faith and candor which it requires. Thus, a person is a fiduciary who is invested with rights and powers to be exercised for the benefit of another.” Black’s Law Dictionary

• Fiduciary duties are the highest duties known to the law. Nathan v. Hudson, 376 S.W.2d 856, 860-61 (Tex. App.-Dallas 1964, writ ref’d n.r.e.).
What Is a Fiduciary? (cont’d)

• Texas Courts hold trustees to a “very high and very strict standard of conduct which equity demands.” Slay v. Burnett’s Trust, 187 S.W.2d 377, 387-88 (Tex. 1945).

• “Many forms of conduct permissible in a workaday world for those acting at arm’s length, are forbidden to those bound by fiduciary ties. A Trustee is held to something stricter than the morals of the market place.” Justice Cardozo, Meinhard v. Salmon, 249 N.Y. 458, 164 N.E. 545-46, 62 A.L.R. 1 (1928).
Why and When Are You a Fiduciary?
Why Are You a Fiduciary?

• You are a fiduciary because you are a trustee of a trust.
  – Note that certain DPFP System consultants are also fiduciaries.

• DPFP System (the “System”) is a tax-qualified retirement plan, and all assets of such a plan must be held in trust for the beneficiaries of such a plan (members, retirees, survivors, etc.).
When Are You a Fiduciary?

• You are a fiduciary any time you exercise discretion in the course of performing your duties as a Trustee of the System.

  • All Board action items
    • Investment decisions and asset allocation
    • Benefit determinations
    • Setting actuarial assumptions
    • Hiring vendors
When Are You a Fiduciary? (cont’d)

• Delegating authority or allocating responsibility
  – Selection of Executive Director and providing relevant direction

• Monitoring prior decisions
  – On-going duty to monitor prior actions

• Establishing policies, processes and procedures

• Exercising individual discretion with System activities
  – Communications with members, vendors or the public
What Are Your Key Fiduciary Duties?
Key Fiduciary Duties

• Duty of Loyalty
• Duty of Prudence
• Duty to Follow Governing Documents and Applicable Law
Duty of Loyalty

• Otherwise known as the “Exclusive Benefit Rule”

• Article 6243a-1, Section 3.01(a)
  – “The board shall execute its fiduciary duty to hold and administer the assets of the fund for the exclusive benefit of members and their beneficiaries under Section 802.203, Government Code, Section 67(f), Article XVI, Texas Constitution, and any other applicable law, in a manner that ensures the sustainability of the pension system for purposes of providing current and future benefits to members and their beneficiaries.”
Duty of Loyalty (cont’d)

- Duty of loyalty requires that a Trustee:
  - Place best interest of all members and beneficiaries first
  - “…ensures the sustainability of the pension system for purposes of providing current and future benefits…”
  - Avoid self-dealing and using your position to obtain a personal profit or advantage
  - Avoid conflicts of interest
  - Avoid using System assets or resources other than for benefits or reasonable expenses of the System
Duty of Loyalty – Wearing More Than One Hat

- Appointee
- Public Official
- Taxpayer
- Member of System
- Family Member
- Friend
- Retiree
- City Employee
- Trustee
- Appointee
- Public Official
- Taxpayer
- Member of System
- Family Member
- Friend
- Retiree
- City Employee
- Trustee
Duty of Loyalty – “Which hat?”

• You have other roles (or hats) in your life other than to administer a pension plan.
• Some of those other roles may overlap with matters before the Board in which you are exercising discretion.
• Dilemma: What hat do you wear “in the boardroom”?
Duty of Loyalty – Your Trustee Hat!

- Which hat do you wear in the boardroom?
  - Always wear your Trustee hat.
  - As a Trustee, your loyalty is to the System and not your “other hats”.
  - You may bring perspectives from your “other hats” to the boardroom, but always adhere to duty of loyalty.
Duty of Loyalty—Your Source of Appointment or Your Electorate

• All Texas public retirement systems contain elected or appointed trustees.

• Such trustees, including DPFP trustees, are not traditional appointed or elected officials with a “constituency.”

• Why? Because you are a fiduciary. Loyalty is to the System and the best interests of members and beneficiaries of the System...not your source of appointment or constituency.
Duty of Loyalty – Self-Dealing and Prohibited Transactions

• Self-dealing generally occurs when a fiduciary uses his other position to obtain an advantage or profit, either directly or indirectly through a family member.

• Certain transactions that involve System assets are strictly prohibited, regardless of a Trustee’s involvement, intent or motive.
  – Prohibited transactions include:
    • Unauthorized personal use of System assets
    • Obtaining personal financial benefit from transactions involving System assets
Duty of Loyalty – Conflicts of Interest

• A conflict of interest generally occurs when a Trustee has a personal or business relationship that could reasonably be expected to diminish the Trustee’s independence of judgment in the performance of the Trustee’s responsibilities.
  – Duty of loyalty requires a fiduciary to affirmatively avoid conflicts of interests.
  – If not possible to avoid, conflicts should be disclosed, and recusal from participation in any related matter may be appropriate.
Duty of Loyalty – Reasonable Expenses

• Exclusive benefit rule dictates that System assets should only be used for benefits or reasonable administrative expenses.
• Disclosure and transparency of fees has been focus of regulatory activity.
• Reasonableness of fees, especially in the investment context, has been the subject of fiduciary claims against ERISA retirement plans in the private sector.
Duty of Prudence

- Prudence Standard
  - Texas Constitution and the System’s Statute are almost identical.
  - “In making investments and supervising investments, trustees shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing that persons of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs...” Article 6243a-1, §4.07(b)
Duty of Prudence (cont’d)

• Prudent investor standard applies under Texas Trust Code; slightly greater standard under ERISA.

• Do the different standards matter?

• Maybe in a courtroom, but not how you approach your job as a Trustee.

• Each of them require a level of knowledge and degree of care.
Duty of Prudence — Background Education

- Fiduciaries should become educated on topics relevant to service as trustees
  - Plan Administration
  - Investments
  - Fiduciary and Ethics
  - Actuarial Matters
  - Governance and Risk Management
Duty of Prudence — Process

• Prudence is a process.
  — Show the required care was taken in the decision through your decision-making process.

• From a fiduciary duty perspective, Trustees should be judged by the process in making decisions and not the results of the decisions.

• From a practical perspective, results certainly matter.
Duty of Prudence — Process (cont’d)

• How do fiduciaries show their process for making decisions?
  — Policies and Procedures
    • Investment Policy
    • Board of Trustees Governance and Conduct Policy
    • Board of Trustees and Employees Ethics and Code of Conduct
    • Contractor’s Statement of Ethics
    • Other System Administrative Policies and Procedures
Duty of Prudence — Policies

• Having a process set forth in written policies and procedures is a great way to display prudence.

• However, not following the policy is “Exhibit A” in an action for breach of fiduciary duty.

• Adherence to your policies, and reviewing and updating your policies, is critical.
Duty to Follow Governing Documents

- Plan Documents include:
  - Your Statute---Article 6243a-1
  - Board and System Policies and Procedures

- If administrative or governance issue arises, the first place to go is your governing documents.

- Note: failure to follow documents can also cause administrative and tax problems giving rise to other liability.
Duty to Follow Applicable Law

- Applicable State Law
  - Your Governing Statute, Article 6243a-1
  - Texas Open Meetings Act
  - Texas Public Information Act
  - Texas Local Government Code Chapter 171 and 176
  - Texas Government Code Chapter 802
What Standards of Conduct Apply?
Standards of Conduct

• System governance and ethics policies provide written guidelines around activities that implicate state ethics laws, fiduciary duties, and other standards of conduct to help ensure compliance by providing guidance to Trustees, DPFP staff, and contractors. These include:
  • Board of Trustees and Employees Ethics and Code of Conduct
  • Board of Trustees Governance and Conduct Policy
  • Contractor’s Statement of Ethics
Standards of Conduct – Key Aspects of Board and System Policies

• Statements of Standards of Conduct and Fiduciary Duties
• Conflicts of Interest and Prohibited Transactions
• Gifts, Travel, and Expenses
• Undue Influence
• Confidentiality and System Information
• Trustee Communications—Internal and External
• Board Conduct at Meetings
What Are Your “At-Risk” Situations?
Potential “At-Risk” Situations

• Conflicts of interest that are not disclosed
  – Ask for permission, not forgiveness

• Issue that will adversely impact the group who elected or appointed you or your particular status with the System
  – What hat are you wearing?
Potential “At-Risk” Situations (cont’d)

• Making uninformed decisions without proper background or support

• Failure to monitor Board decisions
  – You can be liable for prior Board decisions; must ensure prior decisions remain prudent
Potential “At-Risk” Situations (cont’d)

• Not adhering to terms of governing statute, rules or policies
  – Need to keep apprised of policies and update as necessary

• Inconsistent decisions or treatment in similar situations
  – Change in overall approach to given issue may be justified, but unexplained differences reveal lack of process
What is Your Liability?
Liability as Fiduciary

• A fiduciary has personal and individual liability for breach of fiduciary duty.
  – Personally named in suit and potentially responsible for all losses associated with fiduciary breach

• Immunity defenses, indemnification, and insurance are available.
  – Note that actions outside your scope of authority could render these protections unavailable.
Co-Fiduciary Liability

- You may be liable for the act of another fiduciary in some cases:
  - If you knowingly participate in or conceal knowledge of the act of another Trustee or fiduciary that constitutes a breach of fiduciary duty
  - If you have knowledge of a breach by another Trustee or fiduciary but you make no reasonable attempt or effort to correct the breach
